Aspiring Machine Learning Engineer | Software Engineer | Cybersecurity Enthusiast

Driven tech enthusiast and undergraduate with experience in web development frameworks such as Django and React, proficient in Python and Java. Recently completed an internship at a fintech startup, contributing to impactful projects and enhancing my problem-solving skills. Eager to transition into a project management role, leveraging a collaborative mindset to drive innovative initiatives. With a keen interest in software architecture and design patterns, I am well-equipped to bridge the gap between technical requirements and project objectives, ensuring successful outcomes.
